I bring a unique blend of backgrounds in political science, linguistics, and now, programming.

As a political scientist, I honed my research and analytical skills through report writing, policy assessment, data retrieval, and broad perspective problem-solving.

As a Spanish teacher, I've immersed myself in various cultures, understanding first-hand the impact of cultural nuances on larger organizations.

Recently, my career took an exciting turn when I transitioned into a role that combines my analytical expertise with my interest in programming. Initially just a hobby leveraged at work, it soon became an obsession and recently my role evolved to automate workflows and enhance productivity across multiple teams full-time.

Driven by curiosity in back-end development, I've recently completed a back-end bootcamp, augmenting my front-end skills gained on the job.

Should you require any further information, please do not hesitate to contact me.
